1:1 Focusing Perception, One Will manifests the reciprocal mirror. One Expanded Consciousness Manifests Life. One's reciprocal consciousness Will's the Life of accumulating evolving Nature. One's Perception Culminates.

A: Mirror

The One can be compared to Spinoza's "Substance," (Ethics 1:D3), or Meister Eckhart's "Ground," or the Qabalistic "Ain Soph". It can be summed up as "The Tao that can be told is not the eternal Tao. The name that can be named is not the eternal Name.” (Tao Te Ching: Verse 1) If you feel you can begin to define the One, it has eluded you. Therefore I will refer to it as “One” and leave it at that.

‘Mirror’ is a simple way of saying ‘self-realization’. The idea of someone picking up a mirror, looking at him/herself and saying, ‘Oh, I am THAT I am,’ is rather silly but it is visual. Self-realization doesn’t involve visuals, it involves Feelings, a venue we are less comfortable with. Creation is a very personal endeavor on both a cosmic and an individual scale.

As Alfred North Whitehead explains in Process and Reality “It is better to say that the feelings aim at their subject, than to say that they are aimed at their subject. For the latter mode of expression removes the subject from the scope of the feeling and assigns it to an external agency. . . . An actual entity feels as it does feel in order to be the actual entity which it is. . . . All actual entities share with God this characteristic of self-causation. For this reason every actual entity also shares with God the characteristic of transcending of other actual entities, including God. The universe is thus a creative advance into novelty. The alternative to this doctrine is a static morphological universe.” (italics his)¹

The universe isn’t created by some little dot exploding into a huge space filled with lots of stuff. It is One self-realization which instigates increasingly deeper and increasingly more complex realizations. And each realization is, in itself, a new actual entity. “Self-realization is the ultimate fact of facts. An actuality is self-realizing and whatever is self-realizing is an actuality. An actual entity is a once the subject of self-realization and the superject which is self-realized.”²

The One ‘mirrors’ by perceiving itself, self-realization, expanding consciousness and willing Life.

Nature is the Feeling of growth from the desire to know to the resultant knowing. And true knowledge comes with the realization that there is more to learn. The more you know the more you know there is more to know. Nature, the system created by life to facilitate life, (406 or 40 6 or life evolving), always expands, always evolves, always seeks diversity.

*One expanded consciousness manifests Life (Elohim). One reciprocal consciousness wills = 792 . The radius is 3,960 miles, the diameter is 7,920 miles from pole to pole. The word consciousness implies mind and so the element of air.*

*Life accumulated evolving Nature is One's Perception culminated. = 793. The diameter of the earth at the equator is slightly larger so the figure here is 7,930 miles. The word perception implies fire.*

Consider looking at reality from Whitehead's perspective of events, rather than the current theory of matter. Perception, feelings, via either our obvious perceptive organs or the heart or the higher self, occur when the individual encounters the potential elements of the event. The process of an event is: encounter, process, satisfaction, and 'death'. In death the event ceases but leaves a 'prehension', a shadow or pattern of sorts in the sea of potential around us. This pattern is composed of the culmination and growth accomplished in the event. Being, as it is, part of the potential that is available to be captured by any subsequent event. Primary of these events are ones initiated by the entity that initiated the prior event. The perception, the event of perceiving and embracing aspects within the sea of potential, is the sole action, the sole vibration, the sole fire.

$$\text{Earth (will } \psi \text{ 300) + Air (consciousness } \aleph \text{ 5) + Fire (Perception } \aleph \text{ 200) = 505}$$

$$505 \times \text{Pi (3.14 Form)} = 1585$$

Perceiving, One Will manifests = (sans zeros) $2+1+3+1=7$ Seven is a prime as number. The sum of 1 through 7 = 28 The statement begins with Perceiving. The act of perception initiates movement and thus vibration which is the elemental for of fire. The numerical values of the letters that compose this statement contain 5 zeros, implying that the outcome will have a consciousness ן (5) (air). Like a flute that forms notes from air blown through holes so consciousness (air) finds expression in the yielding places in potential. It contains Will (earth) . Will is the strength to be what the individual is, to be steadfast and strong, to utilize interaction of Perception into the individual.

Reciprocal mirror of One expands consciousness to manifest Life in One's reciprocal. = (sans zeros) $4+2+3+1+3+5+1+4+1+4=28$. This describes the action of the One, upon viewing it's reflected aspects, expanding it's consciousness, infusing the entity with Life, the quality of self aware, expanding animation. The One Whole can now interact with the One Individual. The Individual is still part of the One Whole, but, just as we have interactions with aspects of our own subconsciousness, the One brings into focus aspects of its being to further explore its own nature via the free will of Nature. This first verse of Genesis has 28 letters which accentuates the importance of this number. 28 is a Perfect number as all of its divisors add up to the number $1+2+4+7+14=28$

The Element of Water (Life ם (40)) is the result of the expansion of the Perfect number 7 by the sum of each of its parts to 28 with the insertion of Consciousness. $7 + 28 + 5 = 40$

One expanded Consciousness manifests Life. = 86 Elohim. Is Elohim a process or an entity embodying the process? Considering that the center word is Consciousness I'd say it is an entity. But there are those that would feel more comfortable thinking of Elohim as a process. That's ok. Every perspective is different and proper for the individual that is honest with their own personal quest. And every healthy perspective evolves.

Writing the name clockwise around a circle then starting with the Lamad and going counter-clockwise around gives us Pi 3.1415. Aligning this name with the circle gives it a feminine connotation as well as the primary concept of Platonic Form. 'Eloh' One \aleph (1) expanded ζ (30) consciousness π (5) is feminine in that it is form, in this case One in the form of expanded consciousness. 'im' (manifests ' 10) (Life \triangleright 40) is masculine in that is action, in this case the action of manifesting Life. The resulting balance of masculine and feminine, action and form, fertilizes and creates.

If you have a circle who's radius is the central letters of Elohim: consciousness π (5) manifest ' (10) = 15 (' π = feelings) and you want to know the circumference of that circle using Pi which has just been established, you use the formula (Pi x Radius squared) and you find the circumference is defined as 706.8.

consciousness π (5) manifest ' (10) feelings = 15 = radius

$3.1415 \times 15 \times 15 = 706.8 = \text{One } \aleph (1) \text{ reciprocal } \aleph (400) \text{ conscious } \pi (5) \text{ will } \omega (300)$ The act of establishing Form (Pi/Elohim) of feelings immediately creates the One Reciprocal Conscious Will. Basically, Individual Will is the first out of the box of One Reflected.

E: One Expanded Consciousness – Square defined

A square is the geometric illustration of the process of self-realization. In this verse this process is started by the identification of the primary concept as One expanded consciousness. The process is defined as the square root of two: Manifested life's one Reciprocal. It answers the need of 'what is the heart of it, what is the root of the need?' The answer is self-realization, the need to know one-self. What is at the root of '2'. Mathematically, that is answered with 1.414. If you take that need of knowing and multiply it with who needs to know, $1.414 \times 36 = 51$ which is the first letters in the process. Manifested Life's One. Simply, it takes two to know one.

What is the result of this inner quest? What is the full potential of this process of self discovery? What is 36 x 36? 1296. What is the sum of these 17 consecutive letters? 1295. What could that missing one be? Probably that One that cannot be expressed. One Expanded Consciousness manifests Life. One reciprocal consciousness wills the Life of the accumulated evolving Nature of the One. = 1295

This is just a little too perfect to be coincidence. One's search for self-realization results in the growth of it's own nature which we see as Nature. Simple and mathematically proven, and can be applied at any level.

manifests 𐤕 (10) Life 𐤁 (40) One 𐤍 (1) reciprocal 𐤇 (400) sans zeros is 1414. With a decimal it is the square root of 2 (1.414). Applying the square root of 2 to the square with sides of 36 creates a diagonal of 51 which is embedded in the square root of 2 as

1.414 (sqrt 2) x36 = 51 manifested ' (10) Life ԁ (40) of the One Ռ (1) = 51

F: Phi and Natural growth in the form of the Pentagram.

One Expanding Consciousness having the value of 36 also suggests a pentagram because the points on a pentagram are 36 degrees. This is verified by the relationship of accumulate evolving nature at 462 and One reciprocal consciousness willed life at 746 is Phi. 1.618. The combination of these phrases is Phi times 746. 1208.
